University of Wisconsin-Madison
Film, Television, Video, Photography and Other Commercial Production on Campus

The University of Wisconsin-Madison is a beautiful, historic campus much beloved by alumni and visitors alike. Accordingly, the university receives many requests to film or photograph campus for both personal and commercial reasons.

In general, UW-Madison allows filming and still photography in the following instances:
1. UW-Madison campus/physical environment is used as an unidentifiable, non-specific backdrop for film or photography
2. UW-Madison campus/physical environment is identifiable, but the film or photography is news-related and/or documentary
3. UW-Madison student film/video/photography projects created in the fulfillment of academic requirements

We do not allow commercial film/photography/other production that is identifiably of the University of Wisconsin-Madison for the sole use and profit of the originator of the work.

Several locations on campus have additional policies specific to their unit. Please see the Arboretum’s website, Allen Centennial Garden’s website and the Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery’s website for information about those locations.

Please Note: In the event that conduct of a party constitutes a violation of this policy, the university reserves the right to pursue all available remedies to the fullest extent of the law.
